Brutus speech

Had you rather were living and die all Noun, than that were dead, to men? As Proper Noun loved me, I weep for him; as he was fortunate, I Adjective at it; as he was valiant, I honour him: but, as he was Proper Noun, I slew him. There is tears for his love; joy for his fortune; honour for his valour; and death for his ambition. Who is here so base that would be a bondman? If any, speak; for him have I offended.

Who is here so rude that would not be a Roman? If any, speak; for him have I offended. Who is here so vile that will not Adverb his country? If any, speak; for him have I offended. I pause for a reply.
