A Day In The Life of Principal Kelly Chow

Good afternoon. My name is Kelly Chow and I am the _____ of Capitol Hill Elementary school.

This morning I _____ in my _____ and drove to school. On my way, I stopped at _____ to grab a _____. Upon my arrival, said "Good Morning" to _____ and went into my office. I put my _____ on my _____ and turned on my _____ to check my emails. _____ had emailed me to say they would be late as they had misplaced their _____. I started to panic, wondering who would watch over their class of _____? I called _____ to help out.

After a hectic morning it was finally time for lunch. I walked into the staff room to find _____ eating my _____ right under my nose! Good thing I have an emergency stash of _____ in my desk!

To finish the day we had guest speakers _____ and _____ speak to the school about the dangers of _____. It was a most informative presentation and the students were thrilled to come away with such a life skill. As I rang the 2:47 bell to end the day I thought to myself,

"Wow! What an interesting day! I sure hope Inman is just as exciting as Capitol Hill!"
