Frisk's dream of.... a job.

Frisk is Adjective that they got their American job of being President. They tried their best to keep it in mercy, hoping nothing would go wrong. Later..... A character said "Wakey wakey eggs and bakey!"

Whoa! They can't believe it wasn't real, but Frisk is still Adjective. While eating their tasty breakfast of bacon and eggs OR cereal and milk, Frisk is still thinking of their What type of dream. It's stuck in their head, like it wanted to come true. During Story Time in class, Frisk got to tell their story of that dream, mentioning it ended with America being peaceful. It got ALOT of positive feedback filled with With what.

Name and Name said "Frisk, you deserve this job more than Name." with beautiful smiles. Will Frisk dream of that job more?
