Beached Whales

One day Kylie, Heather, Matt, and Bailey were in a group together for an activity in English. Their task was to _____ _____ of a scene to perform in class. The group decided to create a beached theme. It was a very _____ idea. They each chose their roles that they were going to play. Bailey chose the old guy getting a burnt belly while sleeping. Matt chose to be the hot woman walking her dogs along the water. Heather chose to be the _____ teenager who _____ to her I-pod around everybody. Kylie chose to be the _____ beached whale. The three other kids looked at Kylie as if she were a _____. As the group practiced their scene everybody could help but notice how _____ Kylie's beached whale impression was very daft. So Matt decided to help. He layed down on the floor and flopped around and made _____ noises. Bailey decided his beached whale impression was _____. So Bailey got on the floor and flopped his feet around, thinking it was his tail. Then out of no where he roared! The rest of the group _____ him, thinking he got a rug burn. Kylie decided to combine the two impressions she was shown together. She made a _____ for the better! The group got an A+ on the project, thanks to Kylie's wonderful beached whale impression!
