

whatever

1. Noun
2. Noun
3. Noun
4. Noun
5. Noun
6. Noun
7. Noun
8. Noun
9. Noun
10. Noun
11. Noun
12. Noun
13. Noun
14. Noun
15. Noun
16. Noun
17. Noun

whatever

George Washington was the first President. When he was six years old, he got a _____ Noun as a gift. He loved it! When he was president, his aunt told this _____ Noun about him.

One day, George was walking in his _____ Noun. He was swinging his _____ Noun. By mistake, he hit his father's _____ Noun. His father loved that _____ Noun! The cut in the _____ Noun was deep. George tried to fix it. It was too late. The _____ Noun was going to die.

When George's father came home, he saw the _____ Noun. He said, "George, do you know why this _____ Noun is hurt?"

George put his _____ Noun down and said, "I cannot tell a lie, Pa. I hit the _____ Noun my _____ Noun." His father was not mad. He was proud of his son for telling the truth. He said, "You have made my _____ Noun happy. We will get a new _____ Noun. Even if the _____ Noun was made of _____ Noun, telling the truth was more important."