Tomato Juice

Tomatoes..... the Superlative Adjective EG Weakest Healthiest thing ever! Most people don't like them and prefer tomato SubstanceONE, or sometimes even tomato SubstanceTWO. Well, I like all. And tonight, guess what I'm having for Mealtime of Day EG Breakfast Dinner etc - that's right, tomatoes with Food Plural and mashed Food!

I'm really Feeling. And Feeling. This is one of my Adjective - Self Opinion EG Most hated Favourite etc meals. Mum's giving me a Quantity - Amount of tomato, because she knows I like it, so that's part of the reason why I'm more First Feeling than I usually would be.

After that dreaded time of Verb - Present ends in ING, it's finally Time of Day! I can smell the tomato from here, which is my Room in House. Mum doesn't say anything but I know I could be getting some tomato SubstanceTWO too!

Just as I'm about to exit my Same Room in House to go eat Same Mealtime of Day, there is a large Sound sound. I run out and yell 'What was that?' as it gave me a fright.

As I enter the Room in House, I really can't see a thing. Everything is covered with a Adjective layer of..... tomato SubstanceTWO!!

Usually I would start helping out to clean it, but come on, it's tomato SubstanceTWO. My mum is COVERED in it. She's still standing there with her Part of Body wide open. And I would be, too, if it was me who got covered in tomato SubstanceTWO!

The

area in the Same Room in House where Mum was standing is covered in SubstanceTWO too. So all I can do is follow the rhyme: Number, Number, Number, Number, dig in, don't Verb - Base Form !
