The Tale of Raymond David (Part 2)

Unbeknownst to Raymond David, Quinness expected him to show up and had a Adjective plan up his Noun. When Quinness saw the Adjective hunchback on the dance floor, he knew who had arrived. With a loud voice he said, "PLAY 'CURRENT' ALREADY!" The Male Name Onomatopoeia Show knew this was their cue to play Raymond David's favorite song and that they must continue to play it for the rest of the night. Everyone knew that Raymond David could not resist dancing to this Adjective song. Quinness wanted to test how magical these shoes really were.
