Shoe Shopping

^ ^ ; ^ ; One day Matt and Collin went shopping for shoes. They had a Adjective amount of money so they could buy as many shoes as they wanted. They decided though that they were going to buy the best pair of shoes ever.

^ ^ ; ^ ; As ^ they arrived at the mall, they saw a very Adjective shoes store and started Verb around in delight. As they were, Dalton walked by and told them they looked very Adjective. They immediately stopped and felt embarrassed. After that they walked into the store and it had billions of shoes. They Verb all the shoes very carefully. They wanted to make sure they got the perfect pair. Then they saw the perfect pair.^ ;

^ ^ ; ^ ; As they were walking toward the shoes a sales person came up and asked if they needed any help. They all said they wanted a pair of the Adjective shoes. The sales person walked them over and handed them each a Noun and said, "If you want these you will have to read this."; Since Collin was very Adjective he said, "No problem. I can read that."; As the man got them each a pair of the magnificent shoes, Dalton made sure he was very Adjective with them.^ ;

^ ^ ; ^ ; When they got home they all put on their new shoes and were so excited. They thought they were a Noun and that no other shoes could be better.
