

Trial

1. Adjective
2. Noun
3. Noun
4. Noun - Plural

Trial

Mad Libs, I think, have very _____ Adjective usefulness with English Language Learners since they really don't promote accurate understanding. However, for ELLs who are in the high-intermediate range, _____ Noun found they can be an occasional _____ Noun activity that also reinforces parts of speech. Having students create their own versions for their _____ Noun - Plural can move this activity to a much more productive level, however, and the Word Blanks site is the easiest tool out there for making them.