

How to survive a bear attack

1. Adjective
2. Plural Food
3. Tv Show
4. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
5. Part Of Body
6. Shape Ending In Er
7. Adjective Ending In Er
8. Color
9. Color
10. Color
11. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
12. Adverb
13. Base Form Verb
14. Verb - Base Form
15. Verb - Base Form
16. Noun
17. Verb - Base Form
18. Verb - Past Tense
19. Part Of Body
20. Adjective
21. Verb - Base Form
22. Verb - Past Tense
23. Adverb

- 24. Adjective
- 25. Verb - Present Ends In Ing
- 26. Noun - Plural
- 27. Adjective
- 28. Type Of Music
- 29. Number From One To A Hundred

How to survive a bear attack

The first step to surviving a bear attack is to stay indoors! Why go in the Adjective outdoors, when you can stay home, eat plural food, and binge watch TV show. But, if you must go into the Repeat Last Adjective outdoors, and you happen to be attacked by a bear, the first thing that you should do is to determine which type of bear is Verb - Present ends in ING you. The survival procedures vary depending on the species of bear. An easy way to tell the different types of bears apart is to look at their Part of Body and color. A grizzly bear will have a shape ending in ER and Adjective ending in ER face than a black bear. The black bear is also distinguished from the grizzly bear by the black color. Most grizzly bears will be either a color or brown color. Once you've established what kind of bear is Verb - Present ends in ING you, you can take the right steps to surviving. If you are being attacked by a grizzly bear, Adverb base form verb! If you do this the bear is more likely to Verb - Base Form you alone.

If you cannot Repeat Last Adverb Repeat Last base form verb, Verb - Base Form a tall Noun, and Verb - Base Form till the bear has Verb - Past Tense the area. Another tip you can follow is to not look the bear in the Part of Body, as this will make it Adjective. If you are attacked by a black bear, do not Verb - Base Form a Repeat Last Noun, and do not Repeat Last Adverb Repeat Last base form verb. Doing so will get you Verb - Past Tense. Instead, you're gonna want to Adverb walk away while making yourself look as Adjective as possible. It has also been said that black bears are afraid of sounds such as Verb - Present ends in ING on metallic Noun - Plural, and loud Adjective type of music music. Now if you follow these simple steps, you will have a(n) number from one to a hundred percent chance of survival

