Choose Your Own Little Duck

The Little Duck was a very Adjective duck! He had Adjective feathers and Adjective webbed feet to help him Verb - Base Form in the water. Little Duck had an Adjective beak that matched the colour of his Adjective feet. He loved swimming in the Noun where he lived and Verb - Present ends in ING in the Noun - Plural on the Adjective of the pond.

Little Duck was a very Adjective swimmer but he had never tried to Verb - Base Form across to the other side of the pond by himself.

Today was a particularly Adjective day and the Noun was shining Adjective on the water. Little Duck was paddling in the pond looking up the Noun. All of a sudden Little Duck realised he had Verb - Past Tense over to the far side of the pond! Adjective Duck was all by himself and felt scared but then he remembered how well he knew his way around the Noun and how brave he could be ! Surely he could find his way back Noun...! Little Duck Verb - Past Tense to the Noun side of the pond where the Adjective trees were ...

But that wasn't where he lived! So he Verb - Past Tense up all his Noun and swam over to the other side of the pond where the reeds covered the Noun of the pond. YAY! Little Duck had Verb - Past Tense his way back Noun! He was so Adjective and proud of himself for being so Adjective and Adjective and finding his way home back to the other side of the pond! The End.
