A boy who loved

There once was a boy who loved           Noun - Plural          . So much so, he had           Number          . Every morning when he woke up, he would           Verb           out of bed and yell, "Computers for the win!", at least           Number           times before           Adverb           settling into his           Adjective                     Noun          . He would probably have           Number           in every room of the house if he could. Including the bathroom.
