Story 1: Vacationing for dummies

Ah, vacation. What a(n) _____ Adjective thing. You could go visit a city, or see the world's biggest _____ Noun, or _____ Verb around a national park!

Now of course, there are some setbacks to this. First of all, how will you get there? Do you really want to spend

_____ Number dollars to sit next to a crying child on a plane, while trying to read your _____ Book genre anime? I thought not! As an alternative, you can use a moving _____ Noun, and stuff all of your vacation necessities in it. This will enable you to rest at gas stations and read your _____ Book genre anime in peace. ( finally!)

Next, is the problem of where you want to go. A good idea is to use a map of _____ Location and put your finger on a random spot. Wherever your finger lands is where you should go!

These tips are sure to help you go on the _____ Best or worst vacation of your life!
