Nor'easter

NEW YORK, N.Y. -- A Adjective, Adjective, late-season storm lashed the Northeast with sleet and more than a foot of snow in some places Tuesday. The storm paralyzed much of the East Coast from Washington D.C. to Boston after a Adverb Adjective February had convinced people that the worst of winter was over.

Adjective flights. It knocked out power to around 200,000 customers from Virginia northward, closed schools in cities Adjective and Adjective and prompted Adjective warnings to stay off the roads.

As the morning wore on, the storm's path shifted Adverb and snow switched to sleet in Philadelphia and New York. That prompted forecasters to lift blizzard warnings for the two Adjective cities and cut their prediction of a foot or more of snow by over half.
