Radicals Mad Lib

One day       6       was bored and wanted to play       5      . He called his friend       45       and asked if he could play outside. Soon enough they went outside and started to play. While they were playing       53       came outside too. They asked if they could join them in their game. During the game the       36       team was winning. The other team       12 12       was getting mad that they were loosing. So they started to play .. Everybody started playing better and better. It started to get dark outside so they all planned for a rematch. When the day came for the rematch the teams were prepared. They all agreed to play a different game       7       .       26       game they were playing was getting intense. People started to gather around from the neighborhood to watch. When the games were all over they went to       3       house and watched the movie       8 10      . Everyone was happy and were friends again.
