

The Dragon

1. Name A _____
2. Noun A _____
3. Noun A _____
4. Name A _____
5. Body Part _____
6. Noun _____
7. Noun A _____
8. Body Part _____
9. Verb Past Tense _____
10. Noun _____
11. Name A _____
12. Noun _____
13. Noun _____
14. Noun A _____
15. Verb Past Tense _____
16. Name A _____
17. Verb Past Tense _____
18. Noun A _____
19. Noun A _____
20. Name A _____
21. Noun _____
22. Noun A _____
23. Noun _____

24. Name A _____

The Dragon

_____ Name A _____ had to fight the _____ Noun A _____. It was part of his tribe's culture, that the next chief had to slay a _____ Noun A _____. It was time. _____ Name A _____ ran his _____ Body Part _____ along his battle-worn sword and stepped out of the _____ Noun _____ into the light. The _____ Noun A _____, standing before him, lifted its shaggy _____ Body Part _____ and _____ Verb Past Tense _____. The _____ Noun _____ shook. _____ Name A _____ stood tall. It was victory and power, or death. He didn't particularly want death. He could sense the tribe watching through fireproof glass at the top of the _____ Noun _____. He could feel the pressure. And then the _____ Noun _____ begun. The _____ Noun A _____ moved first. Fire _____ Verb Past Tense _____ down from above but _____ Name A _____ _____ Verb Past Tense _____ it with his shield. He stabbed up with his sword and the _____ Noun A _____ cried out. He pushed more fire back at the _____ Noun A _____, which was growing weaker by the minute. Finally _____ Name A _____ gave a shout and shoved his _____ Noun _____ into the _____ Noun A _____, and it collapsed into the _____ Noun _____. _____ Name A _____ had made it. He was the next chief.