Schools out!

Tears _____ Verb Present ends in S down my cheeks the moment _____ Noun remember my last day at school. It was a moment of _____ Adjective parting. That day was my last chapter of the most glorious book of my life as a student.

I spent 10 years as a _____ Noun in my school. It was an unforgettable golden period for me. It passed away like a _____ Adjective dream. I still remember that day; it was 14th February, 1995. I and my fellow mates had a feeling of mixed joy & sorrow.

All of us were _____ Adjective as we were going to get rid of the strict _____ Adverb life of school.

We were _____ Adjective & unhappy because we were going to part from our friends and lovable teachers. We were given holidays to study and prepare for our coming board examinations. We did not have any lectures. Still teachers come as usual to the classes. _____ Noun Plural were focusing over revising the papers.

They said that it is easier to impress the examiner with few _____ Adverb written words than filling pages full of errors. They advised us to not to get _____ Adjective but face the exams with courage. Our _____ Noun also arranged sessions to discuss our difficulties with the teachers.

The

11th class students had organized a farewell party for us on our departure. We all were in a sad mood as it was a day to say good bye. We _____ Verb Past Tense _____ in our assembly hall. We were welcomed with flowers. Our juniors served us tea & chocolates.

The _____ Noun Plural _____ prepared lots of activities to make that day special for us. They sung songs, danced, prayed and prepared speech to show their gratitude towards us. At the end of the program the class _____ Noun _____ addressed us with a song which is very touching and filled our eyes with tears.

Throughout the year we took efforts to make our school popular & our hard work was appreciated by our teachers. Our teachers and juniors prayed for our success in the coming board exams and the future life.

Those words of wisdom and prayers are still _____ Verb Past Tense _____ in my ears. On that occasion I prepared a speech to thank my juniors, teachers, fellow mates and Principal for their love and support. But I did not go to the stage to read it because it was a very painful moment for me and _____ Noun _____ was not able to speak at all. I filed to help my shedding tears.

After the program was over we took pictures with our teachers and Principal. My throat was totally _____ Adjective _____ Adjective _____ to utter a single word to thank and bid good bye to all those who made my school life meaningful.

I stepped into my class room which seemed to beckon to me. Somehow I managed to console myself saying that life goes on and memories do stay forever. That day I promised with myself that I will pay my debt to my school and teachers by scoring good grades in my Board Examinations & I would not allow the efforts my teachers go in vein. I can never ever forget that last day at school.
