More stories at WordBlanks.com

Chris Dixon

1. Proper Noun _____
2. Proper Noun _____
3. Noun _____
4. Proper Noun _____
5. Verb Base Form _____
6. Proper Noun _____
7. Adjective _____
8. Noun _____
9. Proper Noun _____
10. Adjective _____
11. Proper Noun _____

Chris Dixon

There once was a garden clown named _____Proper Noun_____. _____Proper Noun_____ liked to watch grass grow in the morning, but one day he fell into the grass and the grass wasn't angry because it was grass not a _____Noun_____. However, the people planted the grass and it grew again but _____Proper Noun_____ had repressed anger for years so he murdered it again. "Which garden clown is _____Verb Base Form_____ our grass?" Said the human who had problems because he liked how the grass looked in his lawn. They lowered the temperature to kill the clown but _____Proper Noun_____ was immune to the cold because he was _____Adjective_____ so he laughed because more _____Noun_____ died. _____Proper Noun_____ was the happiest thing on earth because he got his revenge and revealed his _____Adjective_____ feelings to the public. It was great, _____Proper Noun_____ decided to take over all of Russia.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.