1. Noun _____

soccer world cup

The world cup happens every four years. The next one is next year in 2018. The two years prior to the world cup they have international qualifying matches. When I say international it means that the players will not play for their team that they have a contract with where they play regular season for it means that they play for their county. So the top 18 players from Argentina will go play for Argentina regardless of what their regular team is. But not _____Noun_____ gets to play in the tournament. That's what the qualifying matches are for, the top like 32 teams will be able to compete for the worlds best team title.
