More stories at WordBlanks.com

Kendra Wertz

1. Adverb _____
2. Adjective _____
3. Proper Noun _____
4. Irregular Past Tense Verb _____
5. Common Noun _____
6. Abstract Noun _____
7. Proper Adjective _____
8. Proper Adjective _____
9. Demonstrative _____
10. Superlative _____
11. Comparative _____

Kendra Wertz

Once, in a land far away, there was a taco. His name was Jeff. Jeff was an _____Adverb_____ _____Adjective_____ taco who loved to sing. _____Proper Noun_____ _____irregular past tense verb_____ all day every day, no matter where he was. When he was little, he sung in Opera's all the time. One day, Jeff's mom, _____common noun_____, was in the kitchen baking cookies. Then suddenly, a big bang come from the upstairs bedroom. Chery was _____abstract noun_____. This is something Chery has never experienced before. On the other hand, Jeff went through a scary moment on _____proper adjective_____ _____proper adjective_____ last year. Jeff picked up a broom.

"Here mom! Come take _____demonstrative_____ as a weapon for safety reasons!"

Chery grabbed the broom and Jeffs hand. Together they slowly eased up the stars too see what the ruckus was. Chery was shaking from fear, but Jeff was standing strong! He was always the kid in his kindergarten class who was the _____superlative_____ afraid of the dark during nap time. The two finally got upstairs. Then, another bang. This bang made Jeff almost jump out of his pants! Chery was yet again scared. But now, Jeff was _____comparative_____ scared! He was petrified! They continued their way upstairs except for now Jeff crept behind his mom. They reached the top of the stairs and eased their way into the bedroom. All of a sudden, a big, brown, fury creature jumped out of nowhere. They then realized that the big bang was their cat playing with yarn she found under the bed. They brought the cat downstairs and they all ate cereal together.

The End

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.