

Abbey Brodbeck

1. Verb Past Tense
2. Adjective
3. Common Noun
4. Adjective
5. Common Noun
6. Verb Past Tense
7. Verb Past Tense
8. Proper Noun
9. Verb Past Tense
10. Proper Noun
11. Verb Past Tense
12. Proper Noun
13. Proper Noun
14. Proper Noun
15. Proper Noun
16. Proper Noun
17. Verb Past Tense
18. Superlative
19. Proper Noun
20. Verb Past Tense
21. Proper Noun
22. Verb Past Tense
23. Comparative

24. Proper Noun _____

25. Demonstarative _____

26. Abstract Noun _____

27. Verb Past Tense _____

28. Proper Adjective _____

29. Adjective _____

30. Proper Noun _____

31. Proper Noun _____

32. Verb Past Tense _____

Abbey Brodbeck

There once Verb Past Tense a Adjective common noun and a Adjective common noun. They Verb Past Tense best friends. The duck's name Verb Past Tense Proper Noun and the dragon's name Verb Past Tense Proper Noun. Charles' favorite thing to do Verb Past Tense to light candles and blow them out. He liked the smell of them. Proper Noun liked to swim at Proper Noun Proper Noun or in any water that he could find. Proper Noun and Proper Noun often liked to compete with each other in different sports. At times, they argued who Verb Past Tense the superlative swimmer. Jackson told Proper Noun that he Verb Past Tense a good swimmer, but Proper Noun often felt bad because Jackson Verb Past Tense always comparative. They also competed to see who could hold their breath the longest. Most of the time Proper Noun won. demonstrative gave them a lot of abstract noun competing with each other. Their favorite food to eat Verb Past Tense proper adjective food. They often brought it home to eat for a Adjective snack. Proper Noun and Proper Noun walked home together from school each day. On their way home, they Verb Past Tense stop and look at all of the flowers. They were best friends and liked spending time together each day.