Winter

I looked out my _____ Number _____ -story window and saw _____ Adjective _____ flakes of beautiful color snow falling from the morning sky. I stepped outside and immediately felt a rush of _____ Adjective , _____ Adjective - earthly substance heat rain etc _____ earthly substance - heat rain _____ Adjective - earthly substance heat rain etc

_____ Adjective - earthly substance heat rain etc _____ I put on my double-layered article of clothing and snowplural clothing and verb ending in ED outside again. The snow was up to my plural body part . I verb ending in ED through it Adverb and tried to find my snow- Noun to shovel the pathway but it was buried deep beneath. I used my plural body part to dig it up, but before I knew it they grew Adjective and frost bitten. I had to forget about the snow last noun used . I stood back up and headed home but as I verb ending in ED , more color stuff tumbled down creating mountains of cold Adjective liquid before me. I lifted my single body part as high as possible and almost reaching home, I slip and fall on a Noun covered in ice that's built beneath the snow. I hear plural noise - squeeks laughs etc and Adverb wonder if I'll fall through, I slowly work my way there and push the Noun . I'm finally inside! I gather old Noun - Plural and light a Adjective fire, take off my article of clothing and wrap myself in a Adjective color single piece of clothing all cozy and Adjective !
