Counting Blue Cars by Dishwalla

Must have been late Time of day

I could tell by how far the child's Noun stretched out

And he Verb Past Tense with a purpose in his Noun Plural down the street

He had many Noun Plural like children often do

He said, "Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural

And tell me, am I very far?"

Must have been late Time of day

On our way, the Noun broke free of the Noun Plural

We count only Color cars skip the cracks in the street

And ask many Noun Plural like children often do

We said, "Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural

'Cause I'd really like to meet her.

And ask her why we're who we are."

Tell me all your Noun Plural on God

'Cause I'm on my way to see her

So

tell me, am I very far

Am I very far now

It's getting cold, picked up the pace

How our Noun Plural make hard Noun Plural in this place

Our Noun Plural are stained, we pass many cross eyed people

And ask many Noun Plural like children often do

We said, Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural

'Cause I'd really like to meet her

And ask her why we're who we are

Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural

'Cause I'm on my way to see her

So tell me am I very far

Am I very far now?

Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural

Tell me all your Noun Plural on Noun Plural
