I Have a Dream

I am _____to _____with you today in what will go down in history as the greatest demonstration for freedom in the _____of our nation.

_____years ago, a great _____ in whose symbolic _____we _____today, signed the _____. This momentous decree came as a great beacon _____of _____to millions of _____who had been _____in the flames of withering injustice. It came as a _____daybreak to end the _____night of their _____.

But _____years later, the _____still is not free. _____years later, the life of the _____is still _____by the _____of segregation and the chains of discrimination. One hundred years later, the _____lives on a lonely island of _____in the midst of a _____of material _____. _____years later, the _____is still _____in the corners of _____society and finds himself a/an _____in his own land. And so we've come here today to _____a _____condition.

In a Noun we've Verb to our nation's capital to Verb a Noun. When the architects of our republic wrote the magnificent words of the Literary work they were signing a Adjective note to which every Nationality was to Verb heir. This note was a promise that all men, yes, Color men as well as Color men, would be Past tense verb the Big word word Rights' of First name First name and the pursuit of First name. It is Adjective today that Location has defaulted on this promissory note, as far as her citizens of Color are concerned. Instead of honoring this Adjective Big word America has given the Nationality people a Adjective check, a Noun which has come back marked Big word word Plural noun.

But we refuse to believe that the Noun of Noun is Adjective. We Verb to Verb that there are Big word Plural noun in the great Plural noun of opportunity of this nation. And so, we've come to cash this Noun a noun that will give us upon demand the Plural noun of freedom and the security of justice.

We have also come to this hallowed spot to remind America of the fierce urgency of _____. This is no time to _____ in the luxury of _____ off or to _____ the _____ of _____ of _____. Now is the time to make real the _____ of democracy. Now is the time to _____ from the _____ and desolate valley of _____ to the sunlit path of racial _____. Now is the time to _____ our nation from the _____ of racial injustice to the solid rock of _____. Now is the time to make justice a reality for all of God's _____.

It would be fatal for the nation to _____ the urgency of the moment. This sweltering summer of the Negro's legitimate discontent will not _____ until there is an invigorating autumn of freedom and equality. Nineteen sixty-three is not an end, but a beginning. And those who _____ that the Negro needed to _____ off steam and will now be content will have a rude awakening if the nation returns to business as usual. And there will be neither rest nor tranquility in America until the Negro is granted his citizenship rights. The whirlwinds of revolt will continue to shake the foundations of our nation until the bright day of justice emerges.

But there is something that I must _____Verb_____ to my people, who stand on the warm threshold which leads into the palace of justice: In the process of gaining our _____Adjective_____ place, we must not be guilty of wrongful deeds. Let us not seek to satisfy our thirst for freedom by drinking from the cup of _____Adjective_____ and _____Adjective_____. We must forever _____Verb_____ our struggle on the high plane of dignity and discipline. We must not allow our creative protest to degenerate into physical violence. Again and again, we must rise to the majestic heights of meeting _____Adjective_____ force with soul force.

The _____Adjective_____ new militancy which has engulfed the _____Adjective_____ community must not lead us to a distrust of all white people, for many of our white brothers, as evidenced by their presence here today, have come to realize that their destiny is tied up with our destiny. And they have come to realize that their freedom is inextricably bound to our freedom.

We cannot walk alone.

And as we walk, we must make the pledge that we shall always march ahead.

We cannot turn back.

There are those who are asking the devotees of civil rights, 'When will you be _____?' We can never be _____ as long as the Negro is the victim of the _____ horrors of police brutality. We can never be _____ as long as our bodies, heavy with the fatigue of travel, cannot gain lodging in the motels of the highways and the hotels of the cities. We cannot be satisfied as long as the negro's basic mobility is from a _____ ghetto to a _____ one. We can never be _____ as long as our children are stripped of their self-hood and robbed of their dignity by a sign stating: 'For Whites Only.' We cannot be _____ as long as a Negro in Mississippi cannot vote and a Negro in New York believes he has nothing for which to vote. No, no, we are not _____ Adjective and we will not be _____ Adjective until 'justice rolls down like waters, and righteousness like a mighty stream.'

I am not unmindful that some of you have come here out of _____ Adjective trials and tribulations. Some of you have come fresh from _____ Adjective jail cells. And some of you have come from areas where your quest -- quest for freedom left you battered by the storms of persecution and staggered by the winds of police brutality. You have been the veterans of _____ Adjective suffering. Continue to work with the faith that _____ Adjective suffering is redemptive. Go back to Mississippi, go back to Alabama, go back to South Carolina, go back to Georgia, go back to Louisiana, go back to the slums and ghettos of our _____ Adjective cities, knowing that somehow this situation can and will be changed.

Let us not wallow in the valley of despair, I say to you today, my friends.

And so even though we face the difficulties of today and tomorrow, I still have a dream. It is a dream deeply rooted in the American dream.

I have a dream that one day this nation will rise up and live out the Adjective meaning of its creed: 'We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created Adjective.'

I have a dream that one day on the red hills of Georgia, the sons of former slaves and the sons of former slave owners will be able to sit down together at the table of brotherhood.

have a dream that one day even the state of Mississippi, a state sweltering with the heat of injustice, sweltering with the heat of oppression, will be transformed into an oasis of freedom and justice.

I have a dream that my four Adjective children will one day live in a nation where they will not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character.

I have a dream today!

I have a dream that one day, down in Alabama, with its Adjective racists, with its governor having his lips dripping with the words of Big word, and Big word, -- one day right there in Alabama Adjective black boys and black girls will be able to join hands with Adjective white boys and white girls as sisters and brothers.

I have a dream today!

I have a dream that one day every valley shall be exalted, and every hill and mountain shall be made

_____ Adjective the rough places will be made _____ Adjective and the crooked places will be made

_____ Adjective; 'and the glory of the Lord shall be revealed and all flesh shall see it _____ Adjective.'

This is our hope, and this is the faith that I go back to the South with.

With this faith, we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith, we will be able to transform the _____Adjective_____discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With _____Adjective_____faith, we will be able to work together, to pray together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day.

And this will be the day -- this will be the day when all of God's children will be _____Adjective_____to sing with new meaning:

My country 'tis of thee, _____Adjective_____land of liberty, of thee I sing.

Land where my fathers died, land of the _____Adjective_____pride,

From

every mountainside, let freedom Verb

And if America is to be a Adjective nation, this must become Adjective.

And so let freedom verb from the Adjective hilltops of New Hampshire.

Let freedom verb from the Adjective mountains of New York.

Let freedom verb from the Adjective Alleghenies of Pennsylvania.

Let freedom verb from the Adjective Rockies of Colorado.

Let freedom verb from the Adjective slopes of California.

But not only that:

Let freedom verb from Stone Mountain of Georgia.

Let freedom verb from Lookout Mountain of Tennessee.

Let freedom _____verb_____from every hill and molehill of Mississippi.

From every mountainside, let freedom _____verb_____.
