Genital Highschool

It was a Adjective day in the town of Tity Town, and the Freshman kids in Genital High School were getting ready for their A Number year in such a Adjective, Adjective place!

A Name had just got her list of class and was about to leave her house when her Noun stopped her, "Don't forget to be yourself. Try not to act like your on your period." Before her Noun said period,

A Name shook her head and left. Her mother Verb - Ends in ED and mumbled, "I hate that failed Noun."

A Name got to her school and with Verb - Ends in ED eyes, she blushed. It was so beautiful. Cherry Blossom tree lined a flagstone path way. A large brick building painted with a pearly

A Color, a pastel A Color and A Color. The School was surrounded by vast fields with dirt Noun Plural that lead to the track and the outdoor swimming pool, the dirt Noun Plural line with Calla Lilies and Petunias. She enter the school building with hesitation and had this feeling like it was going to be a good year. That's when she saw them... A Name, A Name, and A Name, in all of their glory. They were all stuck in conversation until they all nodded at each other and went separate ways.

A Name blushed at the strut of A Name walk. A Name regained herself, going into her English class. And there he was, A Name sat in the far back, near the window. Every student in the room had to go up to the front of the class and introduce themselves. It was A Name turn, she went up with her hands behind her back, "H-hello, I am A Name... I have A Number Noun Plural... I like drawing and I work at the Nuzzily Wuzzily mart down the street..." She said but, soon after she went back to her seat, she could hear whispers about her, which made her upset. A Name raised her hand and ask to go to the Room in House _____, as soon as she _____ Verb - Ends in ED _____ out of the classroom, she took a hecking sit and broke down. She heard the door open, she looked up to see..
