Scandal Series Finale

What kind of ending should we expect for the woman who helped change the face of politics in Washington? In a twist of fate Papa Pope finally decided to help his daughter _____ Verb Base Form a _____ Noun one last time . It was there that he gave the monologue to end all monologues, effectively convincing them all to declare _____ Noun Plural a real thing and to throw Jake to the wolves as the face of it all.

With Jake in jail, dreaming about _____ Verb Present ends in ING in _____ Location with Olivia, that effectively ended the Olivia-Fitz-Ballard triangle for good, allowing Liv to finally _____ Verb Base Form the _____ Noun _____ Plural with Fitz without anymore second-guessing. Of course, before she could officially do that, she also had to say farewell to her other great love affair, the Oval Office, and all that came with it.

The series ended with all of the characters _____ Repeat Last Verb Present ends in ING in _____ Repeat Last Location after all. Abby and Huck honored the great man they lost in David. Liv and Eli had dinners with actual laughter and a _____ Food . Quinn and Charlie got to play house with their daughter, and Fitz and Olivia were able to claim the _____ Animal - Plural they always wanted.
