The Music of Christmas

I just love Singing Christmas carols around the holidays..., you know the old standards _____ Adjective Night, or _____ Funny German word Nacht, as the Mennonites sometimes prefer to sing in church. Another Christmas classic is the timeless song about a popular symbol found in every home during the holiday season, the Christmas _____ Noun. Allow me to refresh your memory, the song goes "Oh Christmas _____ Same noun, oh Christmas _____ Same noun, how _____ Adjective are your branches." Ah _____ Exclamation, I'm always swept away by the nostalgia of it all, the _____ Noun of Christmas. Of course, we can't talk Christmas without referencing the _____ Adjective guy, you know the jolly _____ Adjective elf, otherwise known as Santa Claus; and his _____ Number _____ Adjective reindeer who happen to be the subjects of many carols, such as, Santa Clause is _____ Verb Present ends in ING to town or Rudolph the _____ Color _____ Body Part ED reindeer. One song that I happen to enjoy around this time of year, made popular in an old musical "The Sound of _____ Noun Plural. The song is called "My _____ Adjective one Things" Sung by Julie Andrews in the movie adaptation. The lyrics of the tune are so delightfully _____ Adjective and portray a world as seen through the _____ Adjective eyes of a child. Sing along with me and you'll be teleported back to your childhood with the following lyrics "Raindrops on _____ Noun Plural Two Syl and _____ Noun Plural Two Syl on Kittens, these are a few of my _____ Adjective one Things." Okay now that you're catching on let's skip ahead to my favorite part of the song, the chorus! Together now! "When the _____ Animal bites, when the bee _____ Verb Present ends in S, When I'm feeling _____ Adjective One Syl, I simply remember my _____ Adjective one Things and then I don't feel so _____ Adjective One Syl. Music is an integral part of Christmas, so get out there knock on some doors and start carolling!
