The Music of Christmas

I just love Singing Christmas carols around the holidays..., you know the old standards Adjective Night, or Funny German word Nacht, as the Mennonites sometimes prefer to sing in church. Another Christmas classic is the timeless song about a popular symbol found in every home during the holiday season, the Christmas _____. Allow me to refresh your memory, the song goes "Oh Christmas ______. Same noun_____, oh Christmas Same noun, how Adjective are your branches." Ah Exclamation, I'm always swept away by the nostalgia of it all, the ______ of Christmas. Of course, we can't talk Christmas without referencing the ______ guy, you know the jolly _______ elf, otherwise known as Santa Claus; and his Number Adjective reindeer who happen to be the subjects of many carols, such as, Santa Clause is Verb Present ends in ING to town or Rudolph the Color Body Part ED reindeer. One song that I happen to enjoy around this time of year, made popular in an old musical "The Sound of Noun Plural . The song is called "My Adjective one Things" Sung by Julie Andrews in the movie adaptation. The lyrics of the tune are so delightfully ______ Adjective _____ and portray a world as seen through the Adjective eyes of a child. Sing along with me and you'll be teleported back to your childhood with the following lyrics "Raindrops on ______ Noun Plural Two Syl _____ and _____ Noun Plural Two Syl _____ on Kittens, these are a few of my ______ Adjective one _____ Things." Okay now that you're catching on let's skip ahead to my favorite part of the song, the chorus! Together now! "When the ______ bites, when the bee ______ Verb Present ends in S_____, When I'm feeling Adjective One Syl, I simply remember my Adjective one Things and then I don't feel so ______Adjective One Syl _____. Music is an integral part of Christmas, so get out there knock on some doors and carolling!
