Santa is that you?

Last night was Christmas Eve and I thought I heard Santa Clause on my rooftop. While everyone else was reply and I heard more footsteps which does make sense right? Doesn't Santa travel with Adjective Animal Plural ? I then saw the man on my roof and he wasn't jolly or Adjective looking; he wasn't accompanied by animals either, ratherlooking henchmen.
The leader of the pack, presumably Santa, was dressed in all, wielding a instead of a sack of sack of as the story goes. Santa is that you? I was shocked as I watched Santa Verb Base Form passed the chimney, wait! isn't he suppose to Verb Base Form down the chimney as Is his trademark entrance.
No instead, with his Repeat Last Tool he and his helpers Verb Past Tense towards the Room in a House window. Santa that's not you I'm calling the cops!!
