Kung Fu Armadillo

1.	Time
2.	Verb
3.	Noun
4.	Body Part
5.	Noun
6.	Adverb
	Noun Number
	Noun
	Number
	Gender
	Noun
	Noun
	Noun
	Body Part
	Body Part
	Noun
	Female First Name
	Verb
ı).	YCIU

Kung Fu Armadillo

One night I heard the dogs going nuts in the front yard at aboutAM. I get up,half asleep to the kitchen and grab the weapon of my choice: a As I go investigate, I peek a look out the window and donâ??t see a thing, so I creep open the door and poke out myfor another quick look. Nothing. As I slowly survey the perimeter of my yard, there it is, something moves in the Noun . I poke it with my weapon and the bush moves What the heck?
All of a sudden, the biggestI have ever seen charges me. This thing must have weighed pounds and had bionic armor. I freak out and start running around in my front yard with nothing on but my Tweety Bird boxer briefs and swinging thebehind me. Iâ??m screaming like a Numberyear old little It finally chases me up to my front porch banister and Iâ??m perched there like awith my broom ready for hand to hand combat. I swing at my enemy and it jumps straight up about eye level with me doing the coolest 360 degree karate kick Iâ??ve ever seen. This is a Kung-Fu Noun
I twirl my broom like a half naked redneckand somehow manage to wack myself in the right

beside me. We must have scared each other half to death cause he went one way and I went the other. shows up at the door in a panic wanting to know whatâ??s going on. Of course I say it was nothing and we go back to bed. The next day weout of the house and it looked like I had planted a hay field in the yard. Broom straw was everywhere.
Until we meet again armadillo.
©2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.	