An OM Thanksgiving

It was the day that we had all been waiting for. Thanksgiving day had finally arrived. The smell of Verb Present ends in ING Noun and Adjective Noun filled the air. We watched the Thanksgiving Day parade on television. My favorite float was the Noun float. We spent the rest of our day watching football. My favorite game of the day was the Noun Plural versus the Noun Plural.

The Noun Plural won. Finally, the time we had all been waiting for had come: it was time to eat! We all sat around the table enjoying each other's company and the delicious Noun that my First Name of a Person had prepared.
