I'm leabin the gronp

I'm going to be leaving this           Noun           since           Proper Noun           is giving           Noun           to           Proper Noun           Craig who has been           Verb Past Tense           and           Adverb           since I meet him. Good luck in Verb Present ends in ING           your           Noun           on people that are           Adjective           and           Adjective          . Have a good day otherwise.
