Scary Things

Jane wore a yellow ribbon around her neck every day. And I mean every day, _____ Adjective or _____ Adjective, whether it matched her _____ Noun or not. It annoyed her _____ Adjective friend Johnny after awhile. He was her next door neighbor and had known Jane since she was three. When he was young, he had barely noticed the yellow ribbon, but now they were in high school together, it _____ Verb Past Tense him.

"Why do you wear that yellow ribbon around your neck, Jane?" he'd ask her every day. But she wouldn't _____ Verb Base Form him.

Still, in spite of this aggravation, Johnny thought she was _____ Adjective. He asked her to the soda shop for an ice cream sundae. Then he asked her to watch him play in the football game. Then he started seeing her home. And come the spring, he asked her to the dance. Jane always said yes when he asked her out. And she always wore a yellow _____ Noun to match the ribbon around her neck.

It finally occurred to Johnny that he and Jane were going steady, and he still didn't know why she wore the yellow ribbon around her neck. So he asked her about it yet again, and yet again she did not tell him. "Maybe someday I'll tell you about it," she'd reply. Someday! That answer annoyed Johnny, but he _____ Verb Past Tense it off because Jane was so cute and fun to be with.

Well, time flew past, as it has a habit of doing, and one day Johnny proposed to Jane and was accepted. They planned a big _____^{Event}_____, and Jane hinted that she might tell him about the yellow ribbon around her neck on their _____^{Event}_____ day. But somehow, what with the preparations and his beautiful bride, and the lovely reception, Johnny never got around to asking Jane about it. And when he did remember, she got a bit teary-eyed, and said: "We are so happy together, what difference does it make?" And Johnny decided she was right.

Johnny and Jane raised a family of _____^{Number}_____, with the usual ups and downs, laughter and tears. When their golden anniversary rolled around, Johnny once again asked Jane about the yellow ribbon around her neck. It was the first time he'd brought it up since the week after their wedding. Whenever their children asked him about it, he'd always hushed them, and somehow none of the kids had dared ask their mother. Jane gave Johnny a sad look and said: "Johnny, you've waited this long. You can wait a while longer."

And Johnny _____^{Verb Past Tense}_____. It was not until Jane was on her death _____^{Noun}_____ a year later that Johnny, seeing his last chance slip away, asked Jane one final time about the yellow ribbon she wore around her neck. She shook her _____^{Part of Body}_____ a bit at his persistence, and then said with a sad smile: "Okay Johnny, you can go ahead and untie it."

With shaking hands, Johnny fumbled for the knot and untied the yellow ribbon around his wife's neck.

And

Jane's Part of Body fell off
