Adventurer Down!

Dear _____Dungeon Masters Name_____,

I'm so sorry that I missed our session on Saturday! My pet _____exotic animal_____ tore up my character sheet and I had to re-make it from scratch. I'm _____Verb Present ends in ING_____ that you can help me work out the details. I think I was playing a _____DnD Race_____ _____DnD Class_____, correct? I know I was waffling between the _____occupation_____ and _____occupation_____ backgrounds, but, I think, given my character's love of _____Noun_____, _____occupation_____ seems like the way to go! S/he's _____Adjective_____ _____Adjective_____ and _____Adjective_____, but plays the _____instrument_____ and plays _____game_____ in his/her spare time, so s/he's really well rounded!

I know we're just starting out at level _____Number_____, but you had mentioned that our characters would meet up at the local _____building_____ to begin our journey to _____Location_____. What was the name of the place again? Was it the _____Verb Present ends in ING_____ _____Noun_____, or the _____Verb Present ends in ING_____ _____Noun_____? Either way, my character, _____Pet Name_____, will start off their adventure with a hearty meal of _____Food_____ and _____Beverage_____. They use a(n) _____Object_____ to fight, and they'll drop it down next to them on the table with a loud _____Noise_____! That'll sure let the enemies know who's coming! I hope we get to fight some _____Noun Plural_____!

_____Adjective_____ adventuring!
