More stories at WordBlanks.com

yes

1. Noun _____
2. Verb Base Form _____
3. Noun _____
4. First Name Of A Person _____
5. First Name Of A Person _____
6. First Name Of A Person _____
7. Noun _____
8. Noise _____

yes

It was almost like the hushed moment in a theater _____Noun_____, when the lights went dark but the curtain had not yet risen. They were all still, all anticipating, but they were not watching a play, no longer _____Verb Base Form_____ a _____Noun_____. All the mirth had gone out of _____First Name of a Person_____ face; her cheekbones stood out stark in the shadows, and her eyes looked grim as though the simple thing she was about to do might be of terrible consequence. As _____First Name of a Person_____ hesitated, _____First Name of a Person_____ realized her hand hurt; she was making a fist so tight her _____Noun_____ dug into her flesh, but she could not force her grip to loosen. A _____noise_____ sounded from back the way they came, a cascading, clanging noise ringing out and filling the whole space. John and Charlie froze, meeting each other's eyes in sudden panic. Jessica dropped the curtain and leaped off the stage, bumping into Charlie and knocking the light out of her hands.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.