Family night

Family game night is always _____. We start by playing charades and then play monopoly. Whoever wins gets a large bowl of ice cream, but the loser has to scoop it. My sister Martha takes a loss very heavily. Whenever she loses, she takes the board and flips the table. She can go days without talking to anyone of us. It is usually my dad, Robert who wins, but we play anyway for the quality time.

We also have movie night in which we spend a night watching the newest movies on DVD. My mom Sally goes to the store and buys snacks to eat during the movie. My younger brother Mathew, usually falls asleep, but tends to stay awake during he scary movies, due to being scared.
