So, You Want to Train Pokemon?

So, you want to train Pokemon, huh? Well, it's not as Adjective as it seems. First off, you'll need to Verb them. You can catch Pokemon in the wild or in (the) Place beginning with B. Once you have a A Pokemon or a Blastoise, you'll need to gain it's trust. That's not always easy, though. You can try feeding it or Verb ends in ING it, but the best way to gain a Pokemon's trust is to Verb with it. Once you and you're Pokemon are best Noun Plural, start training. You can do this with a Noun or even with Celebrity at a/an nearby Gym. Think of it like training a/an Noun ! Only when you've trained enough should you challenge another Occupation for real. After all that work, it would be Adjective for someone to come along and take your Noun away!
