The door opened. A _____Adjective_____ _____Adjective_____ man with _____Adjective_____ _____Part of Body - Plural_____ came in and walked over to the desk and stood beside _____Surname B_____ 's chair. _____Surname B_____ looked up into his _____Part of Body_____. He hadn't often seen the man before, but he remembered the very _____Adjective_____ _____Adjective_____ _____Adjective_____ _____Part of Body - Plural_____ that never seemed to _____Verb Base Form_____. With a _____Adjective_____ glance down at _____Surname B_____, the man stood relaxed, looking across at _____Same capital letter_____. He said ' _____Adjective_____ _____Time of day such as morning - A_____, sir,' in a _____Adjective_____, _____Adjective_____ voice.

' _____Time of day A_____, _____Profession A_____. Now I want to ask you some questions.' _____Same capital letter_____ 's voice was _____Adjective_____. 'First of all, what do you think of the _____Proper Noun A_____, the ._____Number B_____?'

' _____Group of people such as Ladies - A_____ ' gun, sir.'

_____Same capital letter_____ raised ironic _____Part of Body - Plural_____ at _____Surname B_____. _____Surname B_____ smiled _____Adverb_____.

' _____Exclamation_____! And why do you say that?'

'No _____Verb A - Present ends in ING_____ power, sir. But it's easy to _____Verb Base Form_____. A bit _____Adjective_____ looking too, if you know what I mean, sir. Appeals to the _____Group of people A_____.'

'How would it be with a _____Noun A_____?'

'Still less _____Verb A - Present ends in ING_____ power, sir. And I don't like _____Noun A - Plural_____. They're _____Adjective_____ and get stuck in your clothing when you're in a hurry. I wouldn't recommend anyone to try a combination like that, sir. Not if they were meaning business.'

_____Same capital letter_____ said _____Adverb_____ to _____Surname B_____, 'Any comment, _____Three digit number - A_____?'

_____Surname B_____ _____Verb Past Tense_____ his _____Part of Body_____. 'I don't agree.
