Food diaries

When stuck at home, the most consistent thing in my life has been food. So much so that I thought it'd be interesting to document my week.

Day 1: Cleaned out leftovers in the fridge. _____ containers of [_____ marked with [_____] and something [_____] and [_____-colored

Day 2: Went to the [_____] store and bought [_____] barrels of [_____
] and forgot to get [_____]

Day 3: Tried to cook a [_____] in the microwave. It took [_____] rounds of nuking and [_____] out of 10 would not recommend.

Day 4: Felt inspired as I scrolled through the social media hashtag #quarantinecooking and imagined myself mastering the art of [_____] while juggling [_____]

Day 5: Discovered that eating the same food 5 days straight is in fact, [_____].

Day 6: Found a dried [_____] behind the couch. Contemplated if it was still good to eat.

Day 7: Didn't realize that I would be attracted to the smell of [_____]. It made me feel the sweet, sweet emotion of [_____] and I can't get enough. Makes me want to eat [_____]

Looking forward to a [_____] week to come!
