My Mad-Lib Fable

1.	Noun Plural
2.	Color
3.	Noun Plural
4.	Noun Plural
5.	Color
6.	Color
7.	Noun Plural
8.	Noun Plural
9.	Noun Plural
10.	Noun Plural
11.	Color
12	Color

My Mad-Lib Fable

Once there was a squirrel who was a very picky eater. He would only eat _	Noun Plural	that were perfect.
They couldn't be too They couldn't be too small or too big.	They couldn't	be dented. They had to be perfect or the squirrel wouldn't eat them. The squirrel had many brothers	s and sisters wh	no were happy to eat any kind of They were always telling their brother, "Yo	ou shouldn't be	so picky! They all taste good, no matter what they look like!". But the squirrel brother wouldn	't listen. In the	fall, all of the squirrels in the community were busy gathering to store for winte	er. The picky s	quirrel's brothers and sisters gathered all types - large, small, dented, dark, light	Color	and hid them safely away. The picky squirrel chose only those few that were perfect to hide away	ay for himself.	His brothers and sister argued with him: "You need to stop being so picky! You need to gather AL	L of the	Noun Plural that you can, and as many as you can!" but the squirrel brother wouldn't listen. Soon	, winter came	and snow covered the ground. All of the picky squirrel's brothers and sisters had manyNoun P	lural to eat	and were full and happy every day. The picky squirrel could only eat one a day from his colle	ection of perfec	Noun Plural and he was always hungry. He spent the winter dreaming of	large, sn	nall, dented, dark , and light They all looked good to him now.	. By spring, the	e picky squirrel had learned his lesson. Picky eaters always go hungry!

©2025 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.