Rosh Hashanah

[Adjective] New Year! 5780 is over, and now it is [Number].

We always celebrate by dipping [Food] in [Food], by eating fish [Part of Body - Plural], and by counting the seeds of the [Food]. It has [Number] seeds - the same number of [Noun Plural] in the Torah!

Usually, we celebrate at [Location]. But this year, because of the [Noun] pandemic we celebrate on [Website]! This year is different in a lot of ways. We wear kippahs and tallits, but also face masks and [Clothing Item]. We share our [Book Title] on the screen, and write about our [Noun Plural] in the chat.

But some things are the same! We still say "shanah tovah", which means "have a [Adjective] year", to our [Noun Plural], we still [Verb Base Form] with our community, and we still eat [Food]! Of course, we also [Verb Base Form] the shofar! The shofar calls are tekiyah, shevarim, teruah, and the most [Adjective] one, [made up word]!

Even though this year is a little [Adjective], we can still [Verb Base Form] in our own way, and [Verb Base Form] with our West End community!
