'Twas the Night Before COVID Christmas

'Twas the night before Christmas, 2020's still here,

The governor's _____ us at some kind of "tier";

Only ten _____ can gather, that's fine,

Eight _____ plus _____ will only be nine.

Should we hang stockings, or should we hang masks?

We've _____ all the doorknobs, (if anyone asks),

Disinfected the light _____, _____ and _____,

And I now feel like Lysol resides in my bones.

When Santa comes, should we leave him a snack?

You see, outdoor seating is something we lack.

If he _____ the _____ with him tonight,

We shouldn't get busted (I'm hoping I'm right).

And though I'm just joking and having some fun,

The vaccines are coming, humanity's won.

So, with worries _____ and blessings _____,

Merry Christmas to all, goodbye 2020.
