Holiday mad libs

Wow, what a           Noun          ! It has been           Adjective           and           Adjective          . It certainly           Verb Past Tense           me how to slow down. I have been           Verb Present ends in ING           from home and           Verb Present ends in ING           lots of time           Verb Present ends in ING                     Noun           (so totally not me)! I missed           Noun and           Adjective           but I totally enjoyed wearing           article of clothing           all the time. Here's to a new year that's Adjective          ,           Adjective           and back to           Adjective          .
