If I Were My Own Father

Why do fathers always have to make up million rules?! 'Don't in the house.'
'Don't you dare leave your lying on the floor.' Don't eat after midnight or you'll turn into a!' If I were my own father, there would only be four rules:
1. Have as much and Liquid as you wanteven if it's o'clock in the morning.
2. Scream and silly-word whenever you feel like it. Don't worry if your neighbour, Person , complains.
3. Bring home any stray you see. All animals should have a place to call, even if they all over the furniture.
4on the bed asas possible! Be careful not to hit youron the ceiling!
