More stories at WordBlanks.com

Missing Pet Returns

1. First Name _____
2. Last Name _____
3. Noun _____
4. Verb Base Form _____
5. Noun _____
6. Noun _____
7. Noun _____
8. Verb Present Ends In Ing _____
9. Noun Plural _____
10. Noun _____
11. Verb Present Ends In Ing _____
12. Noun Plural _____
13. First Name _____
14. Last Name _____
15. Noun _____
16. Adjective _____
17. Last Name _____
18. Noun _____
19. Verb Past Tense _____
20. Verb Past Tense _____
21. Noun _____
22. Verb Base Form _____

Missing Pet Returns

Nearly two weeks had passed since _____First Name_____ _____Last Name_____ and her children had seen their _____Noun_____, Pumpkin.

At first, the disappearance didn't immediately alarm the family because it wasn't too unusual for him to _____Verb Base Form_____ -- he's an indoor/outdoor _____Noun_____, they said. But after not seeing him the _____Noun_____ prior, they knew something was up the morning of Jan. 18.

"I wanted to give him a _____Noun_____ to come home before _____Verb Present ends in ING_____," the owner said, but eventually their family hit the _____Noun Plural_____ to try to find their missing _____Noun_____. "We had spent hours _____Verb Present ends in ING_____ the neighborhoods and looking into the _____Noun Plural_____ we received."

Thirteen days had gone by when _____First Name_____ _____Last Name_____ and children spotted a _____Noun_____, similar in color to their own, on their _____Adjective_____ patio when returning home on Jan. 30. _____Last Name_____ home is about three blocks away from the owner's home.

Finally, the owner made her way to go and pick up their _____Noun_____. Her daughters, who were at school when Crutchfield reached out to Watt, _____Verb Past Tense_____ and _____Verb Past Tense_____ after learning about their _____Noun_____ return home. She said her son, who is young, was mostly glad that the family didn't have to _____Verb Base Form_____ anymore.

©2026 WordBlanks.com · All Rights Reserved.