Jelly Beans Tell a Story (Written by Barbara Hooks)

1. Spelling Word
2. Noun
3. Adjective
4. Spelling Word
5. Spelling Word
6. Noun
7. Spelling Word
8. Adjective
9. Noun
10. Spelling Word

Jelly Beans Tell a Story (Written by Barbara Hooks)

Black is for the evil planned $\qquad$ Word that night.

Yellow is for God's Son Who is the Light.

Red is for the precious blood that Jesus gave,

Green is for the $\qquad$ that grew beside the grave.

Orange is for the $\qquad$ sun as soldiers $\qquad$ slept.

Pink is for the rising sun as Mary wept.

Purple is for rulers who could not $\qquad$ win.

White is for the cloth He left within.

Blue is for the $\qquad$ in the sea.

On the shore, "The risen Lord, oh, could it be?"

Many $\qquad$ witnessed this $\qquad$ event.

Disciples watched as heavenward He went.

The
angel said He would return.

Exactly when we do not learn.

A $\qquad$ full of jellybeans help $\qquad$ tell.

A story of love, we know so well!

Share the candy, share the joy.

Jesus died for girls and boys.
©2024 WordBlanks.com • All Rights Reserved

