The Students and the Boxer

One Adjective day in City, State, Pacific University students were walking along and they came across a(n) Adjective Boxer. It was a curious Adjective thing. It had Noun Plural, Noun Plural, Noun Plural, and Noun Plural. The students Verb Past Tense at the creature, Verb Present ends in ING its tail and patting its Part of Body. The Boxer Verb Past Tense, Emotion for the attention. No one had Verb Past Tense the Adjective guy in a while; everyone was too busy with Noun Plural and Verb Present ends in ING! The students named the Boxer First Name of a Person. First Name of a Person was Verb Past Tense with their new name. It was so Adjective and Adjective! Adverb, the students had Noun Plural to get to and their time with First Name of a Person the Boxer came to an end. They left First Name of a Person, Verb Present ends in ING, "Goodbye you Adjective Noun! We'll see you soon!" First Name of a Person Verb Past Tense goodbye, a little sad to see their new Noun Plural go. Still, First Name of a Person was Emotion to have met those Adjective students and Adverb wished them luck in their studies. It was a Adjective day for all.
