A Springtime CIHR Story

I love spring at CIHR because it is so Adjective. The snow melts and the Noun grass starts to peak through. You can start to hear the Noun sing as you work. My colleagues and I are looking forward to Verb Present ends in ING. I'm also excited to plant a garden. This year Noun and I are going to grow Noun in our garden. With them, Noun and I are then going to bake Noun to share with our colleagues at the next in-person meeting. It's also fun to watch the Noun migrate back from the south. Last year we had a family of them living in Noun! And don't even get me started on the flowers! I love to cut some and bring them into my home office so I can enjoy their Noun smell. Happy Spring everyone!
