Mythbusters

Mythbusters was a _____ Adjective TV show that was on-air for _____ Number seasons and tested the validity of various _____ Noun Plural, legends, _____ Adjective internet videos, implausible or _____ Adjective scenes from movies or TV shows, and even turns of phrase like "you can't teach an old _____ Animal _____ Adjective tricks" and "a rolling _____ Noun gathers no moss." It was originally hosted by Jamie Hyneman and Adam _____ Adjective, two special effects _____ Profession Plural who had worked together previously and used their skills to create _____ Adjective scenes, robots, and props for television shows and movies like Robot _____ Noun Plural, _____ Noun Bots, Star Wars Episode _____ Number: Attack of the _____ Noun Plural, and the Matrix trilogy. Jamie also had lots of life experience from being a _____ Type of Vehicle captain, SCUBA diver, and a(n) _____ Noun or Adjective survival expert, among other things. They were later joined by The Build Team who consisted of Kari Byron, who started out as an _____ Profession in Jamie's shop, Tory Belleci, who started out as the _____ Noun manager, and Grant Imahara, who had previously worked on the _____ Adjective effects in several movies such as The Lost _____ Noun: Jurassic _____ Location and several Star Wars movies.

The Mythbusters tested hundreds of myths. Here are five of the most _____ Adjective ones:

- Cannonball Chemistry: In this myth, they tested the damage of cannonballs made from different materials, such as limestone, granite, and _____ Material, against the control material, _____ Material. During this myth, a cannonball escaped from the testing site and flew _____ Number _____ feet into an adjacent neighborhood, leaving a 10 inch hole in the side of a(n) _____ Noun _____ and _____ -ING Verb Transitive _____ the window of their minivan. Adam and Jamie _____ Past Tense Verb Intransitive _____ in person to deliver a(n) _____ Adjective _____ apology to the homeowner.

- Cement Mix-Up: In this myth, they wanted to test if you could use _____ Noun _____ to remove a(n) _____ Adjective _____ layer of _____ Adjective _____ cement from the interior of a cement mixer truck. However, due to a mishap, the mixer truck was filled entirely with _____ Liquid or Substance _____. They got a second truck and confirmed the original myth, and then blew up the first truck using 850 pounds of _____ Noun Plural _____. This reduced the cement mixer to small fragments of _____ Adjective _____ metal and pieces of _____ Noun _____.

- Shark Week Myths: To celebrate Discovery Channel's Shark Week, they tested a number of myths related to sharks, such as: Will _____ -ING Verb Transitive _____ a shark cause it to flee? Can a shark ram through a _____ Noun _____? Do _____ Animal - Plural _____ scare sharks away? Can sharks detect a single drop of _____ Liquid _____ in the ocean? While the first three myths were found to be _____ Adjective _____, this last one was busted.

- Exploding Port-a-Potty: Will _____ -ING Verb Transitive _____ a _____ Noun _____ in a port-a-potty filled with _____ Substance _____ gas cause it to explode? This myth was busted, as there is just not enough decomposing _____ Noun Plural or Uncountable _____ to create the amount of gas needed for an explosion, and the large amount of gas would cause the person to _____ Verb Intransitive _____ before an explosion could occur.

- Escape from Alcatraz: The Mythbusters tested if it was possible to escape from Alcatraz prison on an _____ Adjective life raft made from _____ Adjective or Material raincoats. The Mythbusters did indeed

_____ Adverb make it from _____ Silly Word Island across the _____ Location Bay, under the _____ Adjective Gate Bridge and landing at the Marin Headlands to the west of Alcatraz. They deemed that the escape was possible. Jamie said they just had to test this myth because it was the most _____ Adjective myth of San Francisco.
