The Monkey's Paw

Sergeant-Major _____ introduces a mummified _____ to Mr. and Mrs. _____ . He tells them that he found it while serving in _____. The _____ has the ability to grant three wishes but they always come with terrible consequences.

Mr. _____ ignores Morris' warnings and asks the _____ a wish for £200. Next day he receives the news that his son _____ died in an _____ at his workplace. The employer sends £200 as compensation for the family of the accident victim.

Mrs. _____ is anguished and wants her _____ back. After nearly 10 days of the funeral, the couple decides to ask for another wish. They rub the _____ and ask for his son to come back. They hear a _____ on the door. The _____ turns into _____ and Mrs. _____ fumbles to open the _____.

Terrified with the idea of seeing a _____ and _____ body of their son outside his house, Mr. _____ makes the third and final wish. The door knocks stop and when Mrs. _____ opens the door, she is shattered in pain and disappointment as there is _____ there.
